111th Stirling Fall Fair Draws Good Crowd On Saturday Afternoon

Taking advantage of beautiful, hot summer weather, a splendid crowd attended the 111th annual Fall Fair, sponsored by the Stirling Agricultural Society on Saturday. President Geo. Sutherland and the directors had worked hard for months in their endeavour to improve the standard of the local fair and their efforts culminated in producing one of the better fairs of the district.

According to Fair officials, both the exhibits and attendance were above average for the past number of years and a fine degree of excellence was evident in all departments.

Officials of the Stirling Agricultural Society said the weatherman, plus advance publicity were responsible for the large turn-out at the 111th annual fair this year.

Mr. R. E. Fox acted as chairman for the opening ceremonies of the Fair.

Clarke Rollins
Opens Fair

The Fair was officially opened by Mr. Clarke T. Rollins, M.P.P., Hastings Riding.

Mr. Rollins stated it was a pleasure to open the 111th edition of Stirling Fall Fair. He brought greetings from Hon. John Roberts and the Provincial Government. The member also congratulated the exhibitors on the quality of the exhibits and paid tribute to the Fair Board on their successful Fair.

Warden Rodgers

Donald W. Rodgers, Reeve of Stirling and Warden of Hastings County Council, brought greetings from the Village of Stirling and County of Hastings. Warden Rodgers stated that agriculture was the backbone of industry in the County. He congratulated the Fair Board on obtaining the Holstein-Friesian Club County Black and White Day Show as a feature of this year's Fair.

Geo. Hees
Pays Tribute

Geo. Hees, M.P. for the riding of Prince Edward — Hastings remarked that it was a great honour to be present. He extended greetings on behalf of the Parliament of Canada. Mr. Hees stated that the exhibits were good and of high quality.

President Sutherland

Stirling Fair President, Geo. Sutherland, extended a welcome to all. He also paid tribute to his executive for assistance, co-operation and to all who helped financially.

R. E. Fox, on behalf of the Fair Board, thanked Mr. Rollins and Mr. Hees for their assistance in opening the Fair.

Jack M. Bush, Reeve of Sidney Township, congratulated the Stirling Agricultural Society and urged them to continue their good work.

Long Service
Diploma Presented

Hon. Geo. Hees presented Geo. Carlisle with a long service diploma for his faithful years of work for Stirling Fair as a director.

Tribute Paid
To Memory of Ben Blecker

R. E. Fox paid tribute to the late Ben Blecker, a moment's silence was observed on the grounds in his honour. Mr. Blecker was a valued director of Stirling Fair for many years and worked hard to improve the Fair. He also was a Past District Director and a Past President of the Ontario Fairs Association.

Exhibits in Main Building

The main exhibit building had its array of produce of garden and field and home cooking that made the mouth water, and handicrafts ranging from large quilts to the smaller items of wearing apparel. The excellence of the farm and garden exhibits, as well as the fancy work, drew many fine compliments from the Fair patrons.

Mrs. Carl Ray had an interesting display of Cameo roll-on embroidery. Beautiful handmade toys and gifts were on display, made by Mrs. R. Beer, R.R. 3, Frankford.

On the grounds, farm machinery was shown by Trent Equipment,

Bride and Groom Honoured

A presentation party was held recently in River Valley Women's Institute Centre, for an August bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kloosterman (nee Janney Zuidema).

Mr. Jack Sager acted as chairman for the evening. Mrs. Jack Bush and Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh led the gathering in a round of singing and several readings followed.

An address was read by Miss Eleanor Bush and the happy couple was presented with a Colonial style floor lamp and two matching table lamps and a large serving plate.

The honoured couple voiced thanks for the lovely gifts and refreshments were served.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stom and daughters, from Holland, the former being a brother of Mrs. Tom Zuidema.

Campbellford.

Dairy Equipment was demonstrated by Doug. Morton.

Snowmobiles were popular commercial exhibits this year, with Ski-Doo's being shown by Stirling Machine Shop; Sno-Jets, by Carl Pitman, Stirling, and White's Corner Service, Thomasburg, and Panther Arctic Cat machines by Dave Potts, of Island Park Marina.

The Marmora Fire Department operated a bingo on the grounds.

There was an excellent horse show with both light and heavy horses being well filled as some of the best horse flesh in the Bay of Quinte area was on exhibition.

The show ring was a centre of attraction all afternoon with the horse and pony classes, as well as the Stirling 4-H Calf Club competition, proving very popular.

There was a good cattle exhibit with all breeds being well exhibited.

Good Midway

The C and S Midway, Peterboro, was well patronized during the afternoon.

Stage Show
Well Patronized

The stage show, produced by Jack McCaughen, was a popular feature of the afternoon. Lyle Couch was master of ceremonies for the show which featured the Up With People Sing Out Group, from Roslin, along with popular Western entertainers from the area. Many fine compliments were heard on the excellent programme.

Achievement Day

A big feature of the Fair was the part taken by Stirling district Junior Farmers and 4-H Club members. Achievement Days were held by West Hastings Area 4-H Calf Club (Stirling), Hastings 4-H Corn Club and Stirling Beginners Calf Club.

Lady Directors
To Be Congratulated

The Lady Directors of the Fair under the leadership of the President Mrs. K. Weaver, are to be congratulated on the success of their portion of the Fair. They have worked tirelessly for the improvement of the floral, needlework, school and domestic science sections. Many congratulatory remarks were heard about the quality and the well-displayed exhibits.

Domestic Science

The large Domestic Science exhibit featured a delectable assortment of pies, cakes, cookies, tarts, bread and buns and other examples of home baking; also bottled goods, eggs and boxed lunches.

Colourful Display

The Stirling Horticultural Society provided a colourful display of summer blooms and plants, attractively arranged in separate groups.

Products of farm and garden, including a variety of fruits, vegetables, grains and seeds, were also on display.

Women's Institute Entertains Stirling Senior Citizens

Last week the Senior Citizens were treated royally to a tasty lunch and programme by the Women's Institute. Norma Clancy was a regular canary as she led us in singing old time songs with Margaret Fitchett tooting the melodian. Mrs. Bartlett took us back to Mother's apron days with her nice reading. Mina Smith gave us a reading which really tore men to shreds. Now, come on, Mina, you really know some nice things about us. Norma Clancy tested our memories in a contest on the makes of old cars. This contest afforded us many laughs.

Six of the thirty-six present had a birthday — Blanche Reid, Martha Wood, Edna Sharpe, Jessie Johnson, Clifford Cain and Will Fitchett. Some years ago in August the stork must have been a busy beggar in this neck of the woods. Blanche and Martha really had a blow out for they blew the blazes off the cakes with one blast.

Pres. Fred thanked all for the nice afternoon and the notes of the Birthday Song filled the air.

A nice thing about The Senior Citizens Club is that we don't have labour troubles. We recently heard of a hospital that was picketed because there was labour trouble in the maternity ward.

Stage Show and Dance at Fair Well Attended

The stage show at the Stirling Fair on Saturday, August 30th, drew a very large crowd for both performances and many people said it was the best one yet.

Harold Lunn and The Norwood Old-timers entertained with fiddle, banjo, guitar and songs. Fred Paquin's Countrymen from Kingston were sensational, as always. Pretty Joyce Kelly, from Peterborough, in her red cowgirl suit and her singing of such songs as "Harper Valley", was a big hit with the crowd.

The "Up With People Sing Out Group", from Roslin, helped to make the stage show and this group of young people are a well practised unit and are to be congratulated for giving such an entertaining performance.

At 8.30 p.m., the annual Two Band Dance commenced in the main exhibit building at the Fair Grounds and, as usual, a large crowd of more than 400 were on hand to dance away the hours to the rocking, rolling "Raven Angels", from Belleville and to round and square dancing to Bev. Reycraft's "Country Kayo's", from Campbellford, with Uncle Jimmy Mitts calling the squares. Amid do see and flashing lights, everybody had a wonderful time.

Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Cyril McKeown, R.R. 1, Bonarlaw, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret Diane, R.N., to Mr. Harry Douglas Jamieson, Scarborough, Ont. Marriage to take place on October 4th, 1969, at 2.30 p.m., at St. Mark's Anglican Church, Bonarlaw, Ont.

Mrs. Jack Bush and a group of ladies conducted the sing song, with Jane Bush as piano accompanist.

Humorous selections were read by Mrs. Percy MacMullen, Mrs. Douglas Kane and Mrs. Roy Tucker. Ward Scott entertained with a few items of black magic. HAROLD C. MARTIN
Your Local Representative

Do You Remember?

— TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO —
ISSUE SEPT 7th, 1944

Sgt. A. F. McDonnell, Stirling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonnell, has been appointed to rank of Company Quartermaster.

Word was received Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Martin, that their only son, Major Ivan Martin, of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, of Canada, was killed in France on August 21st.

Citizens were rudely awakened from their slumbers at 12.40 Tuesday morning by an earthquake which caused windows and dishes to rattle.

A former principal of Stirling High School, Richard G. Lawlor, of Norwood, died Saturday in a Peterboro hospital.

Local and Personal

Mrs. Anne Ackers and Shirley returned home on Monday after spending two months at Riverview House, Ivy Lee.

Mount Pleasant

School reopened Tuesday with Mrs. Stewart Hoover in charge of the Williams School and Miss Keitha Bush at the Allen School.

Springbrook

Friends of Mrs. Burton Bateman will be sorry to learn that she is a patient in Belleville Hospital having undergone an appendix operation.

Murney Bateman and George Reid left on Thursday to go West on the Harvest Excursion.

One good thing about middle-age spread; it brings people closer together.

Wellington Plans 110 House Project

Plans for a 110 house subdivision to be erected in Wellington are "on the drawing board" according to village reeve Robert Boyce.

Mr. Boyce stated that the proposed homes definitely have no connection with Campbell Soups Company currently locating a mushroom plant near the village.

He added that the location for the subdivision has been chosen and that the land was under option.

He said, however, that "no further details can be released now."

Diane Gunning Places Second

"I wasn't really disappointed — I was pleased to get as far as I did."

That is the reaction of Hastings County Dairy Princess, Miss Diane Gunning, 17, of Tweed, who lost out in her bid at the CNE to become this year's Ontario Dairy Princess.

Miss Gunning placed second in the finals competition won by Lorene Archdekin, 18, of Brampton.

As the new Ontario Dairy Princess, Miss Archdekin gets a free two weeks trip to England and for the next year works to promote the dairy industry in Ontario.

But as runner-up Diane didn't do so badly either. For her effort she won a handsome stereo console as well as a number of other prizes.

This week she returned to the Tweed-Hungerford high school as a Grade 13 student and hopes to eventually take a university arts course.

But she still hasn't given up hope of being Ontario Dairy Princess.

"There's always another year," she says.

Dollars and Good Sense

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN

This column is a regular weekly feature prepared by the family Financial Counselling Service of the Avco Delta Corporation, P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered, in print or by return mail. Names will not be used in print. However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

QUESTION — Dear Mr. Martin: I'm simply not there for assembly-line production! Should I buy two chairs for my living room (they're Victorian-style straight-back, velvet) at a sale price of $40.00 each at a discount store, or a higher-quality chair at $80 at another store? I'll need two, eventually. Mrs. B. C.

ANSWER — Don't be torn any longer, Mrs. C. By all means, buy the two for $80. If you're just going to use them primarily for decoration and not sitting and where they won't get a lot of hard use (which is not likely since these chairs are not the most comfortable), then you're way ahead of the game with the additional savings. There's nothing wrong with buying lesser-grade furniture so long as it serves your need. It's only wrong (or foolish) in my opinion when you pay for quality and don't get it... or use it.

QUESTION — Dear Sir: Can you tell me where I can get some financial counselling and aid. I mean someone I can go for help in solving my credit problems. We're getting way behind in our payments and don't know what to do. Mrs. B.P.

ANSWER — There are a number of non-profit groups and other organizations, probably right in your own community, which specialize in private financial counseling. In some cities in the U.S. and Canada, for instance, there are Consumer Credit Counseling Services which offer free credit counseling to those in credit difficulty. If there are none in your community, you might contact the Family Service office, the Legal Aid Society, Better Business Bureau or your local credit bureau. Many credit bureaus have professional counselors on their staff to assist people with credit problems. It's also wise and highly recommended that you go to your creditors and talk over your situation. Perhaps they may have a solution. At any rate, be sure and keep in touch with them and show your good faith in solving your financial problems.

Several weeks ago I wrote a column about consumer credit and its importance to our economy and way of life. As a result I received a letter from a gentleman who claimed that credit was "nothing more than a tool of big business."

My reply to him was: "Brother, you're so right!" of course, he was speaking negatively while I was replying in positive terms. Yes, credit is certainly a tool of business, just as a wrench is a tool of the mechanic. On a hammer a tool of the carpenter. Without them, it's certain that these two specialists could not provide their vital service. A little exaggerated, perhaps, but the point is obvious.

Here's another way of looking at it. Some time ago a medium-sized electric refrigerator cost over $3,000. This was way back when they were made by hand and sold for "cash on the barrelhead." The demand was

But the entrance of consumer credit brought about a rapid change. Assembly-line production. No more "cash on the barrelhead." The cost of the refrigerator was reduced drastically, permitting more people to buy them and to buy them on credit. It meant more savings, too. Credit also aided the economy because mass production meant more jobs of all types for millions of workers. It also enabled manufacturers to improve the efficiency of their operations as well as provide research to improve their products.

No one in the consumer credit field is going to claim that consumer credit is totally responsible for this great change in our economy. But no one, on the other hand, can deny that credit, intelligently used, has not had a far reaching influence on our economy.

ARCHITECTS DRAWINGS OF NEW LOYALIST COLLEGE

natural contours of the campus site with large one-storey machine shops at the rear. At the extreme right, a small lecture theatre is shown. The first section of the Loyalist permanent buildings is scheduled for occupancy by students in September, 1970. For the 1969-70 term, all programs of the College will be accommodated in the present temporary building. — Photo by Fidelity Productions, Courtesy Architects Barnett & Rieder.

Anglican - United Church To Meet Modern Challenges

From the moment it comes into being, the church to be formed by the Anglican and United denominations will be designed to meet the challenges of the modern world. At least, that is the expectation if recommendations to the General Commission on the Church Union are approved by the governing bodies and the people of the participating churches.

For instance, the progress report of the special Commission on Liturgy says that the service of unification should make use of contemporary language to "express the new manifestation and set a standard of excellence in worship for the new church".

As well as modern language the worship of the new church will also allow for changes in thought forms and symbolism.

In making its progress report, the Liturgical Commission said that although the forms will be modern the new church should maintain continuity with the past.

At present the Constitutional Commission is carrying out studies of a proposed structure and constitution for the church.

A draft plan which is still under study suggests that the church be organized into a general assembly, regional conferences, dioceses and pastoral zones.

The newest feature in these suggestions is the concept of the pastoral zone. These areas would be formed by grouping together congregations to form units in which the local clergy could join together to share in a team ministry. All clergy would share in sacramental work, but each would be free to specialize in whatever aspect of ministry was desired.

The idea of the plan is to provide a form of ministry which is best able to serve the needs of existing communities.

One minister might work with youth while another concentrated on older people and another specializing in counselling.

The Commission on Doctrine suggests a threefold ministry of bishops, presbyters and deacons with the bishop being elected by a vote of all levels of church membership.

The report of the Commission on Doctrine says the episcopate should symbolize the unity and continuity of the Christian church.

"Bishops give themselves wholeheartedly to the apostolic mission of the church, transmitting and safeguarding the doctrine and worship of the church, and acting as faithful pastors to those under their care and at the same time accepting the fact that they themselves were in need of pastoral oversight," the report states.

The Commission suggests the title presbyter should replace the term minister, rector and priest, now used to describe clergymen in the participating churches.

Duties and function of the deacon, the third order of ministry in the new church, is still under study by the Commission.

The report on doctrine recognizes the authority of the scriptures and accepts tradition as a continuing feature of church life.

Activities of the General Commission on Union are being co-ordinated by the two Executive Commissioners, Rev. Canon Ralph R. Latimer represents the Anglican Church and Rev. Dr. Robert B. Craig acts for the United Church. They administer a joint office in Toronto and deal with matters pertaining to union negotiations, including the arrangement of meetings, administration of budgets, the publication of Church Union Reports and general information on the progress of the negotiations.

Honoured By Shower

A miscellaneous shower for Miss Marilyn White, bride-to-be of this month was held on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Fred Beckett with Mrs. Bob Clarke and Mrs. Jim Pollock, co-hostesses.

About 40 neighbour ladies and friends from Stirling attended. Marilyn was presented with a corsage of pink rosebuds by her hostess and seated in a chair which had a canopy of pink and white streamers and bells.

Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins led in a sing-song of old favourites. Mrs. Keith Clancy gave a reading. Mrs. Gerald Clancy and Miss Catharine Seel played a piano duet. Humorous contests were presented by Mrs. Jim Pollock and Mrs. Bob Clarke. Following these Miss Janette Dracup read an address to Marilyn and she presented many lovely and useful gifts for which she graciously thanked all those present and invited them to visit her when settled in her new home.

The hostess served fruit breads, cheese, fancy cookies and relishes with coffee and lemonade. Following this a friendly get together was enjoyed.

Pension Plan Payments And Benefits Increased

Contributions by employers and employees will rise to a new figure of $84.60 each. Maximum payment of self-employed persons will be $169.20.

Increase in the Old Age Security Pension and the Guaranteed Income Supplement in 1970 were announced recently by Health and Welfare Minister John Munro.

Mr. Munro and Revenue Minister J. P. Cote also jointly announced similar increases in Canada Pension Plan retirement pensions, survivor's benefits and contributions effective next year.

Cheques issued in January will reflect these increases.

This action will follow a two per cent increase in the Pension Index, the maximum allowed by legislation, from 113.7 for 1969 to 116.0 for 1970. The Pension Index reflects increases in the Consumers Price Index which, beginning in January, 1969, was converted to a 1961 time base from the previous 1949 time base.

The maximum monthly amount of the combined Old Age Security pension and Guaranteed Income Supplement in 1970 will be $11.41, up from $109.20. The OAS pension will rise from $78 to $79.53 monthly. More than 1,600,000 Canadians will benefit, including those whose pensions will begin in January when the eligible age will drop to 65 years. In addition, 780,000 Old Age Security pensioners will benefit from an increase in the Guaranteed Income Supplement. The maximum monthly GIS payment will rise from $31.20 to the 1970 rate of $31.83.

Mr. Cote said maximum annual pensionable earnings under the Canada Pension Plan will reach $5,300 in 1970, up from the 1969 figure of $5,200. He also pointed out maximum yearly contributions by employers and employees will rise to a new figure of $84.70 each. The 1969 rate was $82.80. For self-employed persons, the new maximum will be $168.20. It was $165.60 this year.

Mr. Munro said all retirement pensions under the Canada Pension Plan in payment in December, 1969, will be increased by two per cent in 1970. With the increase in the year's maximum pensionable earnings, retirement pensions which become payable for the first time in 1970 will be slightly higher than those in 1969. On the basis of the new ceiling of $5,300, the maximum rate of full retirement pensions, first payable in 1970, will rise to $110.42 monthly from the present $108.33.

In January, 1970, survivor's benefits in payment in December, 1969 will increase by two per cent. Orphan's benefits and the flat-rate components of pensions to widows and disabled widowers will increase from $26.01 to $26.53 a month. By the end of 1969, Mr. Munro estimated, more than 140,000 Canadians would be receiving monthly retirement pensions and survivor's benefits under the Canada Pension Plan.

The maximum death benefit payable under the Plan, for deaths in 1970, will be $530.

Information regarding benefits and contributions in the province of Quebec will be announced today by the Quebec Pension Plan and the provincial revenue department.

I'm Fine -- Thank You

There is nothing the matter with me. I'm as healthy as can be. I have arthritis in both of my knees. And when I talk, I talk with a wheeze. My pulse is weak and my blood is thin. But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

Arch supports I have for my feet. Or I wouldn't be able to be on the street.

Sleep is denied me, night after night. But every morning I find I'm alright. My memory is failing, my head's in a spin. But I'm awfully well for the shape I'm in.

The moral is this, as this tale unfolds. That for me and you who are growing old. It's better to say "I'm fine", with a grin. Than to let folks know that shape we are in.

How do I know that my youth is all spent?

Well my get up and go has got up and went. But I really don't mind when I think with a grin. Of all the grand places my "get up" has been.

Old age is golden, I've heard it said. But sometimes I wonder as I get into bed. With my ears in the drawer, my teeth in a cup. My eyes on the table until I wake up.

E're sleep comes o'er me I say to myself. Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?

I get up each morning and dust off my wits. Pick up the paper and read the "obits".

If my name is still missing, I know I'm not dead— So I get a good breakfast and go back to bed.

Peanuts are not nuts; they are really beans.

U.S. Interests

Purchase Dairy

A U.S. company has purchased the entire operations in Eastern Ontario of Brookside-Price's Dairy Ltd. The announcement was made that the Kingston firm, with all its subsidiaries, has been sold to Beatrice Foods Company of Chicago—a highly diversified chain with worldwide holdings.

Brookside-Price's is one of Kingston's oldest dairy and dairy product outlets. In the past few years, the firm has steadily expanded its holdings to take in operations in Belleville, Napanee, Picton, Gananoque, Brighton and Campbellford.

The company also bottles supplies for an independent group known as Seal Pure Dairies in Stirling, Frankford, Tweed, Marmora, Madoc and Brantford and sells to distributing dairies in Westport and Parham.

At the first of this year, Beatrice had an interest in 48 companies in 24 nations around the world and 22 sales offices and branches in key international markets and franchise agreements in 12 countries.

Beatrice's policy, according to the company, "is for local management to share in the ownership of the foreign company it manages."

It purchased outright or has a majority interest in companies in Nicaragua, Jamaica, Ireland, Italy, U.S., Canada, Hawaii and other countries.

Beatrice operates from several separate "divisional" profit centres. These are: Dairy, grocery, international, confectionery, chemical and manufacturing products, agri-products and warehousing.

Litter Bugs Cost Money

John Q. Public was caught throwing an empty cigarette pack out of his window. It wasn't the first time he had done this but it was the first time he was caught at it.

Mrs. John Q. Public tossed a couple of tissues out of the car window while cleaning out her purse. It wasn't the first time for her either. Junior was caught ditching a pop bottle. He was learning fast.

They are representative of some of the 353 persons fined in 1968 for littering Ontario's highways and of the hundreds of others who were stopped by the police and warned about the law against littering.

Cleaning up after Ontario's motorists is an expensive business. Last year the Department of Highways found that it cost $970,000.

What the John Q. Public family forgets is that any way you look at it, it's their money that pays the cleaning tab.

It could be put to better use.

ADVENTURES OF A MISSIONARY

Editor's Note — The following article was published in an issue of the Manitoulin Expositor. Mrs. Ralph Hayward, the former Ruth Eggleton, husband of Dr. Hayward, was born at West Huntingdon. They now live at Little Current. They were a recent guest of her cousin, Mrs. Oliver Stapley and Mr. Stapley, R.R. 2 Stirling.

When I approached this week's "Special Guest" for a story, she replied, "Well I really have nothing interesting to tell you." I asked her if she would let me decide, after I heard her story, and she agreed. I am sure you will agree that her story is extremely interesting. It isn't every woman who can say she was taken twice by rickshaw to the hospital to have her children born!

Ruth Hayward was born in West Huntingdon, a small village north of Belleville. She attended public school and high school in Stirling Ontario, and went to Normal School (Teacher's College) in Peterborough. She taught for two years in country schools with all eight grades near Peterborough and Stirling. "In those days there was no practice - teaching," Mrs. Hayward told me, "and these country schools nearly drove me wild!"

Ruth then decided to go to Covenant College in Toronto, a school for deaconess training. Following this, she went to the University of Toronto where she acquired her B.A. degree. While attending university, she met her future husband, and they soon learned that they both had a common interest, to become missionaries. Dr. Hayward had completed his course in medicine and was posted to China. Ruth was living with her ailing mother, and felt she could not leave her at that time, so stayed and taught school for one more year. Then she followed Dr. Hayward to China, and they were married in Chungking, going to her wedding in a sedan chair. They were married by a minister at the British Consulate. "I didn't wear my white dress to our wedding because white in China is a sign of mourning," explained Mrs. Hayward. "I wore brown instead, but I still felt conspicuous because I was a foreigner to the Chinese."

The young couple resided at Penghsien for language study with a Chinese teacher for a year. The Communists were at that time within 200 miles of their city, so the mission shipped them back to Chungking. (They were the very first missionaries to arrive by plane, as all the others had gone by boat).

The Haywards had many strange experiences while living in China. Ruth told me about one trip she and her husband were making with a coolie to carry their bed-rolls. It was pouring rain, and they arrived at a Chinese Inn ahead of their coolie. After waiting some time, they decided to sleep on Chinese beds, which were just hard straw mats. "After the light had been out for a few minutes, I told Ralph he would just have to turn it back on, for I was sure there were more than the two of us in the bedroom! Sure enough, our beds were just covered with bed bugs," Ruth recalled. "Our bed-rolls were finally brought in, but they were soaking wet, so we sat on a table all that night."

Three of their children, Bob, Jean and Donna were all born in China. These were happy years for the Haywards, while they were stationed at Kiating for 4 years. Then it was time for one year's furlow at home in Canada. By 1940 the war had broken out with the Japanese, and after a precarious journey home by boat, dodging Japanese submarines, etc. the Haywards decided to stay home until the war was over. Dr. Hayward applied to the United Church for a Home Mission Hospital. As a result, they were sent to Ethelbert, Manitoba, where they resided for two years. While there, Dr. Hayward joined the army, and the family had to move to Winnipeg and buy a house and all their furniture. Helen was born while they were in Winnipeg.

During the war, Ruth's husband was "seconded" because of health reasons to the Indian and Eskimo Health Services in Okavik, N.W.T. which is 100 miles inside the Arctic Circle. Ruth was notified of the move on a Tuesday and they were required to move on Friday. Since it was summer, you can imagine the scramble and search there was for woolen underwear, heavy clothing and parkas!

Ruth recalls that they went down the Mackenzie River by paddle-wheel steamer for most of the way, and then flew in to their destination. They remained there two years until the end of the war, when they returned to China; they left Los Angeles in a Japanese steamer, a troop ship. The going was rough and nearly everyone was sea-sick. However, on their way they visited Honolulu. "It was something wonderful, after being on the ship," she remarked. "All the missionaries in Honolulu banded together to entertain the many missionaries and their families from the boat. I remember especially the German Lutherans who were so kind to the children. God seems to have a plan for each of our lives, because our children escaped malaria and so many other dangers. I have always been rather a timid person, but in my life I have had to come through the most precarious conditions!"

This time the Haywards were posted at Tseluising, where Dr. Hayward was superintendent of three hospitals about 70 miles apart. The two older children were sent to boarding school in Chengtu, while Ruth taught their daughter Helen at home. While they lived there, Mrs. Hayward taught English for a short time in Uhan University. The Communists were getting closer, so the Haywards returned to Canada, coming home by way of the Suez Canal and India, and thus had been completely around the world. No need to add that this voyage was fascinating.

Now Ruth's husband joined the Indian Health Service. They were posted at Sarnia, Brantford (where Joanne joined them), the Pas, Manitoba, and finally at Little Current.

While at the Pas, Ruth taught an up-grading class for adults, and in our town she is teaching Remedial Reading in Public School. "It is really a fascinating job," she told me, "and the work is satisfying and rewarding as I see the children improve." She has also been teaching in the Junior Department in the United Sunday Church School.

Church Is Dying Statement Draws Strong Rebuttal

Some Canadian church leaders disagree with Rt. Rev. Ralph Dean, Anglican bishop of Cariboo, who says the Christian church in its present form is dying. But a few agree the church does have problems and must adopt a new outlook.

Bishop Dean told The Anglican General Synod in Sudbury, Saturday the church has 10 more years to live in its present form because it is dying "from self-strangulation by its own prosperity."

Rev. R. M. Bennett, general secretary of the Canadian Council of Churches, says the church will not collapse but it faces a more subtle danger.

"We can go on with the framework and the building and have nothing vital inside," he said in an interview.

Mr. Bennett said the church must not forget that people are more important than buildings.

"I don't think too many people are impressed by the church. Certainly the younger generation is not. They are not impressed by anything that is rigidly structured."

Rt. Rev. Thomas B. Fulton, Roman Catholic auxiliary bishop of Toronto, was more optimistic.

"I think there's a good deal of evidence to the contrary . . . evidence to show an increasing awareness of the church.

"The church is much more involved and becoming increasingly relevant and aware of today's problems."

Rev. Leland A. Gregory, general secretary of the Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec, predicts the church will renew itself.

"Whenever it has fallen behind the times, it has pulled itself up . . . because it is a divinely based organization," he said.

THE BIBLE TODAY

On the outskirts of the capital city of Accra in Ghana is a notorious shanty-town which is home to 350,000 people. Called Ashaiman, it lacks running water, sanitation and even streets — in the rainy season it becomes one big mudhole. Here live the poor and outcast of society, including thieves and prostitutes, and the shanty town has gained as a result of a widespread reputation as a den of iniquity.

This shanty-town is "my market place" says the Rev. Henry Janssen. He is a veteran Roman Catholic missionary from the Netherlands, with a passion for getting the Word of God into the hands of the people. In 1968 he personally sold at far below cost over 39,000 copies of the Scripture obtained from the Bible Society of Ghana in 10 languages. Half of that total was bought by the residents of the shanty-town. Because he has worked in all parts of Ghana and can speak four of the national languages, he is particularly well suited for this part. When he first began he says, "some of my colleagues thought I was crazy." But he has demonstrated that so far from being crazy he has found a way of conveying the truth of God to a needy people. "The market is only past beginning," he says. "I could sell 100,000 copies, if only I had more time."

Taxes Taxes and More Taxes

Tax the farmer, tax his dad,
Tax whatever he ever had;
If he's broke it's just too bad.

Go ahead and tax the man

Tax his dog and hired hand

Tax his cow, tax his milk,

Tax his bed, tax his quilt,

Tax his pig, tax his pen.

Tax his corn, tax his wheat,

Tax his wagon, tax his squeak,

Tax his wife, tax his boy,

Tax whatever gives him joy

Tax his baby, tax the crib

Tax his all—who gives a fib?

Get his tabs-n-tax his goats;

Tax his horses and their oats,

Tax his fiddle, tax the bow,

Tax what he intended to sow,

Remember the Forgotten Man

In your so-called taxing plan

He has income so they say,

Most of which he ought to pay

Get the man that's on the dole,

Get him in a deeper hole.

Tax the manufacturer, too.

He is more than getting through.

Tax his building, tax his chattels

Tax his Ford and all its rattles

Tax his stock, tax his cash,

Tax him double if he's rash,

Tax his payroll by the hour

If he's making more than rent,

Add another five per cent;

Tax whatever he has to sell,

If he hollers—tax his yell.

Don't Sell Out To The Devil By Walking On Your Friends

Time is short on this old earth,
And if we really knew its worth
This world would be a better place to live.

But money — lust and need for fame
Makes men trade friendship for their aims,

And use their friends for just what they can give.

Don't walk on your fellow man,
Give your friend a helping hand.
Don't sell out to the devil
By walking on your friends.

Man is selfish—wants his day.
He'll knock his friends out of the way
And climb up over them to reach his goal.

Lord—what Thou would have us do
Is treat our neighbors kind and true,
And love both God and man with heart and soul.

Don't walk on your fellow man,
Give your friend a helping hand.

Don't sell out to the devil
By walking on your friends.

The story has been handed down that Sir John A. MacDonald spoke in the first school house, while campaigning for an election.

Look Out -- They Play For Keeps

The Senior Citizens enjoyed spirited games of cards and dominoes last Thursday and a feed fit for a threshing gang was dished up by Blanche Reid and Elizabeth Foster. President Fred thanked these two kids and informed us that we could drink like a fish since they had bought a new 75-cup coffee perk.

Mina Smith gave a very funny reading. It was about a large bathroom with a small tub in it. In fact it was so small that you could only wash one foot at a time in it. It was automatic and when the water got dirty, all you had to do was pull the chain and you got a refill for the other foot, only the water was always cold, and that ain't all.

In a game of checkers with a lady, Ern Munro must have thought he was playing give away, he was beaten so badly. Get wise Ern, our girls always play for keeps.

Two old codgers, as bald as a loaf of bread, went out for a night of it. They put their heads together and made an ass of themselves.

Numerous Changes Made In Ontario Highway Traffic Act

A sliding scale of fines for speeding convictions, with the penalty rising sharply in relation to the speed, went into effect in Ontario on September 1, 1969.

Under the new sliding scale, the fine will rise with the speed. $2 for each mile per hour over the speed limit up to 9 m.p.h.; $3 per mile between 10 and 19 m.p.h. over the limit; $4 per mile between 20 and 29 m.p.h. over the limit; and $5 per mile for 30 m.p.h. over the limit.

For an offence that occurs after September 1, a driver will be fined $10 for driving 35 m.p.h. in a 30 m.p.h. zone. But that fine will rise to $30 if he is convicted of driving 40 m.p.h. in the same zone and to $150 if he is driving 60 m.p.h.

A new sliding scale of fines has also been set for convictions resulting from the overloading of commercial vehicles.

Changes in fines make up the bulk of more than 60 amendments to the Ontario Highway Traffic Act which become effective September 1.

"We have overhauled the entire system of deterrents by discarding the principle of varying fines for first, second and third or subsequent offences," Hon. Irwin Haskett, Ontario's Minister of Transport said. "New minimum and maximum fines have been established for each traffic offence."

"The changes are aimed at irresponsible drivers who invite collisions." (Continued on Page Eight)

Stirling W.I.

The September meeting was held at the cozy cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones at Oak Lake. It was beautiful there, looking out over the lake so calm and quiet to have our first meeting of the autumn season.

Mrs. Clancy opened the meeting in the usual way with the Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and Lord's Prayer.

Thirteen members answered the roll call and we had 4 visitors present and our little John.

Mrs. Frank Smith paid for the quilting of five quilts. A donation of $2.00 was made by a member who does not quilt and another donation made by a good friend towards the quilting projects.

A bill was paid for $5.00 to the Heart Foundation in lieu of flowers in memory of Mrs. Ted Gould. A bill was also settled up with Mrs. Ayrhart for quilting materials.

The subject of the Area Convention was brought up and it was decided our new member Mrs. Alex Tanner should attend as delegate. The convention will be held at Club Canara, Belleville Ont. Oct. 16 and 17. Mrs. M. Ward to be alternate delegate.

Mrs. M. Ayrhart gave an exceptionally interesting paper on citizenship. Mrs. West talked a little about a personal friend from Bermuda.

Mrs. Clancy read one of the Lay Farmers write ups.

Mrs. F. Smith was in charge of a short programme and gave a comic reading entitled Bessie's Boil and put on a contest, "Parts of the body", won by Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Bartlett. The meeting was closed with the Queen and the hostess, helped by Mrs. Clancy and Mrs. R. Chambers, served a real supper with hot dogs, sandwiches, cheese and several kinds of cake.

Mrs. Wm. West moved a vote of thanks to all who helped with the lunch and in any other way.

We were all pleased to have Miss Lenora Williams with us once more and see her looking so well after her illness and we hope for a steady improvement.

The moon will probably be our next vacation spot. People who go there won't have an earthly thing to do.

Mount Pleasant

(Mrs. Percy MacMullen)
Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith have returned home from a holiday at Sault Ste. Marie and other northern points. Mrs. Burton Sharpe, President of the U.C.W., Mrs. Kenneth Weaver and Mrs. Raymond McConnell were guests of Spring Brook U.C.W. on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Harrison Presbyterian Literature Secretary, gave the message.

Mrs. Lindsay McKeown spent last week at Lindsay, Ontario, with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Copeland and family. Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMullen Honoured
On Saturday afternoon, September 6th, Mr. and Mrs. Percy MacMullen were pleasantly surprised when a group of ladies called to extend best wishes on the occasion of their fifty-third wedding anniversary. Two of the ladies wore their wedding gowns, Mrs. Walter Wrightman, who was observing her eleventh anniversary, and Mrs. Roger Smith, who celebrated one year of marriage on Sunday, September 7th. Little Miss Kathy Wrightman wore her long white dress which had been her attire at her uncle's wedding in 1968.

The other guests included Mrs. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Norma Bradshaw and baby son and Mrs. Eleanor Johnston. Nellie brought along a special treat of wedding cake which all enjoyed.

River Valley W.I. Tours Golf Course and Flying Club

On Thursday, September 4th, River Valley W.I. had two very enjoyable tours of the Oak Hills. There were twenty members, one visitor and eight pre-school children in the group.

They convened at The River Valley Women's Institute Centre at 1.30 p.m. for the first tour. David Duffin and his assistant, Robert H. Hoard, arranged seating on a wagon drawn by tractor, and the ladies were transported over the Oak Hills Golf Course, which included the new development on the former Donohoe property. David gave a commentary at many points of interest and explained the various methods of preparation in order to have an up-to-date course for the patrons. At the conclusion of the tour, the group were shown through the barn, where many golf carts, etc. are stored and then they were given a cool drink of freshie and a generous parcel of peat moss to carry home for their flower pots. This soil is purchased near Cannington, Ontario, in the Lindsay area.

David also gave a bird's-eye view of their development plans for the next five years. The close-up of the trip showed some of the daily work being done and the lovely green grass that was mowed looked and felt like velvet.

Mrs. Roy Tucker voiced appreciative thanks for the very informative tour which everyone thoroughly enjoyed.

The group then travelled by car to The Oak Hills Flying Club property. Here they were welcomed by Mrs. Hadley Richardson and were later treated to freshie and cookies.

Allan Morton showed the interior of a plane and then gave a commentary about other planes in the various hangars. The scenic view from the hill top was also enjoyed.

At the close of the tour, Allan offered free rides over the Village of Stirling. Three Institute members, Mrs. Roy Irvin, Mrs. George Grills and Mrs. Norman Rosebush, accepted the invitation.

Mrs. Ross Bush voiced appreciative thanks to Mrs. Richardson for the enjoyable time spent at the airport.

Mrs. Ernest Carr was hostess at the Institute Centre and President, Mrs. Roy Tucker, opened the meeting with the Institute Ode.

The secretary and treasurer gave their reports. Several items of business were discussed, which included plans for a silver wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Stanley Irvin will be the October hostess and the District President, Mrs. Cecil Jeffrey, will make her official visit.

The meeting closed with the Institute Grace and the lunch committee served a variety of fresh fruit.

Rylstone W.I.

Rylstone Women's Institute held their September meeting in the Institute Hall, on Wednesday afternoon, with an attendance of thirteen members and three visitors.

Mrs. Ellis Jones, convener for Public Relations, was in charge of the meeting and opened with the Institute Ode and Creed followed by the roll call, "What I Liked Best in My Garden This Year", which was answered by all the ladies.

Bills and accounts and other general business was dealt with and Mrs. Ernest Irwin gave a report of the committee on forming a girls' club. Mrs. Irwin and Mrs. Ellis Jones had toured the Rylstone district, contacting the girls, and met with very favourable response from the girls and their mothers. Mrs. Doug. Brunton and Mrs. Morris Owens will be leaders. Their inaugural meeting was held on Saturday, September 6 at 2.00 o'clock in the W.I. Hall. Place and time of further meetings will be decided by the girls and their leaders.

Mrs. Earl Brunton was pianist for the day, in the absence of the regular pianist, Mrs. Percy Reid. Mrs. Jack Watson gave a report on the Guelph Conference which she attended.

Mrs. Jones then introduced Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, of Stirling, President of Stirling Horticultural Society, who spoke in a very interesting way on "The Origin of Bulbs", "Rooting Flower Slips", "Diseases of Flowers" etc. She also distributed books from the Agricultural Office on different lines of horticulture and donated several flower slips and bulbs to the ladies. Mrs. Jones extended the thanks of all to Mrs. Armstrong for her interesting talk and presented her with a small gift.

Mrs. Ernie Rowe and Mrs. Ray Stewart gave humorous readings: "The Women's Institute" and "The Age of The Spray Can". Mrs. Earl Brunton and Mrs. Murray Meiklejohn both gave current events.

"God Save The Queen" was sung and a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ernest Rowe and Mrs. Murray Meiklejohn.

The October meeting will be held in the W.I. Hall on October 1st, in the evening. Mrs. Hector Arnold, convener for "Historical Research", will be in charge. Special speaker for the evening will be Mr. Russell Rowe, M.P.P., who was a former teacher at Rylstone Union School. This will be an open meeting with every one welcome, men, women and children.

Programme committee for the evening will be Mrs. Ernest Irwin and Mrs. Carl Reid; Lunch committee, Mrs. Gerald Barnum and Mrs. Lindsay Anderson.

The committee for games and prizes for the card games at the W.I. Hall from November through April—Mrs. Stanley Kerr, Mrs. Carl Reid, Mrs. Ernest Rowe, Mrs. Jack Watson, Mrs. Ray Stewart, Mrs. Carl Linn and Mrs. Margaret Osborne.

McComb and Son Premier Breeder and Exhibitor of Holsteins At Stirling Fair

The Hastings County Black and White Show, sponsored by the Hastings County Holstein Breeders Club, was held at Stirling Fair. Sixteen exhibitors paraded 63 animals before Judge Brian McCauley, Alliston. A. B. McComb & Son, of Belleville, Ontario, were awarded the Premier Breeder and Premier Exhibitor awards.

C. Treverton & Son, Plainfield, showed the winning four-year-old in milk, Knoepfli Perfecta Sharon, who then went on to become Senior and Grand Champion Female of the show. Sharon has a good, firmly attached udder, a wealth of dairy character and good legs. She was also named Best Uddered Female of the show.

Kenneth S. Thompson's winning dry aged cow, Glen Oban Pietje Clipper, was named Reserve Senior and Reserve Grand Champion Female. She has tremendous body capacity, width of rump and was in excellent form.

The Junior Champion Female was the winning senior yearling heifer, Nolevue Rockman Ruby A. She was shown by Robert Burkitt, of Frankford, and is a clean, sharp and stylish heifer.

A. B. McComb & Son, Belleville, showed the winning senior heifer calf, Glenalcomb Heptad Pam, who was named Reserve Junior Champion Female. Pam is a growthy, upstanding, deep ribbed calf.

The Senior and Grand Champion Male was Ellencrest Rockman Pride, the winning aged bull shown by Kenneth S. Thompson, of Roslin. Pride is an upstanding bull with stretch, smooth blending and sharpness of shoulder. Last year's champion for Harold R. Deitor & Sons, Stirling, was this year named Reserve Senior and Reserve and Champion Male. Covista Pontiac Premier, the second place aged bull, is a deep massive animal with a smooth level rump.

The Junior Champion Male was Almerston Howie, the winning senior bull calf shown by George W. Sutherland, of Stirling, and Almerston Farms. He is growthy for his age, very dairy like and well balanced.

Trevertona Rockman Bert, the Reserve Junior Male, was the winning junior bull calf for C. Treverton & Son. He typed in very closely with the Junior Champion, being sharp of shoulder and stylish.

Others winners were: Alton Goodman, of Harold, and Almerston Farms, first prize junior yearling bull; A. B. McComb & Son, winning aged cow in milk, three-year-old in milk, dry three and four year old and Breeders Herd; Keith M. Donnan, Stirling, the winning two-year-old in milk; Harold E. Outdoor Life IN HASTINGS with ART MACCONNELL

The 1968 waterfowl seasons and bag limits were recently announced by the Federal Government. Because the Ontario Summary of the Hunting Regulations was printed much earlier than usual, bag limits and seasons are not included, concerning migratory birds and waterfowl.

However, a summary of the Federal Migratory Bird Regulations will be mailed to all those who purchased a Migratory Game Bird Hunting Permit in 1968.

One major change in the Central District — The waterfowl season opens on September 27th, which is one week later than the upland game season opening in a large portion of this area.

The delay in season is designed to reduce the kill of Juvenile Black Ducks, a very important species which has been declining in recent years. Young Black Ducks are very vulnerable to the gun and they undergo a heavy mortality during the first few days of the season. The season delay will hopefully allow local broods to disperse more widely.

Some experts claim that due to high water conditions, some ducks may have raised a second brood of ducklings this season and therefore hunters may encounter young ducks still unable to fly and if so, we urge all gunners to be sportsmen and hold off on these defenceless birds and give them a chance.

Remember, if you down a duck with a band on its leg, send the band to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington, D.C., and in so doing you are personally aiding in a very important program. The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service works in conjunction with the Canadian Service in this program.

If you send in a band, they will return recognition and send you a lovely certificate stating all facts regarding date, place and person who banded the bird. I have received two certificates and they are worthy of hanging on any den wall.

I will be starting a series of columns regarding our waterfowl in this area and I will try to carry this out throughout the Fall.

A Tip To Duck Hunters

You should be preparing your duck blind now so the ducks will have time to be used to the site of it. Also it will weather and blend in with the surrounding terrain. Blinds should be made of material from the immediate area so as not to stand out like a sore thumb!

Traffic Act

ions by their shocking disrespect for the traffic laws."

As an example of the stiffer fines, Mr. Haskett mentioned the new minimum fine for a careless driving conviction. For an offence occurring previous to September 1, the minimum was $10. For an offence occurring after September 1, the minimum is $100. The maximum fine of $500 remains.

Other amendments which become effective on September 1 include:

The rule of the road concerning stopping for stopped school buses has been clarified by changing "divided highway" to "median strip". Traffic meeting a school bus which is stopped with red signal lights flashing, is not required to stop on a highway with a median strip. A median strip is defined as a strip of pavement of more than 10 feet in width, or a physical barrier or an unpaid strip of ground.

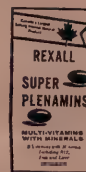

Two offences have been added for which the police may arrest without warrant: failure to remain at the scene of an accident, and failure to provide correct name and address when a driver's licence cannot be produced. Power of arrest has been eliminated for three other offences; improper position of licence plates on vehicles, failure to notify the Dept. of Transport of a change in vehicle ownership or a change of address within six days.

Optometrists are required to report patients with vision conditions that could make driving dangerous.

Stopping for emergency vehicles: formerly, stopping as closely as possible to the right hand side of the road was only required when an ambulance, fire or police vehicle was sounding a bell or siren. This has now been extended to also include an ambulance, fire or police vehicle that is flashing a red light on the roof.

The new laws which took effect on September 1st, are among nearly 100 amendments to the Highway Traffic Act passed by the Ontario Legislature earlier this year. The amendments are being put into effect in three stages — some became effective on June 9, 1969, and one requiring accidents to be reported to police where there is personal injury involved or property damage exceeds $200 instead of the present $100, becomes effective on January 1, 1970.

Stirling School System One of Most Modern In Hastings County

(By Stephen Patrick)

The parents of Stirling youngsters need have no fear of their children's missing out on a more modern and liberal education simply because the village is not as populous as more urban centres like Belleville. A sober and appreciative eye has regarded the schools in the village, and as a result, certain modernizing changes have been brought about. The ultimate is to give the student from the rural or semi-rural area an equal footing with urban youngsters in today's great educational opportunities.

Most Stirling citizens are aware of the rising demands of employers in every trade and profession for more education, and at the same time, the people of the village are able to see the recent addition to the public school and watch the long line of school buses despatching and retrieving the youngsters to and from the Stirling schools. These visible enlargements are signs of recognition of the education demand, and are suitable answers in today's world.

It used to be that the old country school, with its one or two rooms, could turn out scholars of equal ability to those graduating from larger and better known institutions. But no matter what we do for a living, be it raising cattle or programming the newest IBM computer, we can see how the new technology affects the educational requirements of our children. In today's modern society, students require the facilities of up-to-date libraries, classrooms properly equipped for laboratory science instruction, larger gymnasiums, and special classes, courses, and teachers, prepared to help the slower learners. And also, the sheer number of students in school today, as compared to thirty years ago, demand more efficient, friction-free, streamlined systems. For these reasons alone, have the changes in many schools, including those of Stirling been wrought.

The new system is this: Students of Stirling, as well as those of Rawdon, Sydney and Huntingdon Townships, attend public school in Stirling from grade one through eight. For high school, they go to, Centennial Secondary School in Belleville. This system will equalize the opportunities for both sets of students, and also provide the high schoolers with the facilities of a large, modern college.

Both Stirling Schools are public schools now. A few years ago, the one taught about 275 public schoolers the other about 200 high schoolers making a total of about 475 students. With the newer system, the total number of students being taught in the two schools is up to 728 this year an increase of about 250. Four portable classrooms, a recent idea in education, will help to accommodate the record number of youngsters spending their school days in Stirling.

Not only does the new system provide for more students; it also provides more for each student. Oral French, which was as likely as not to be missing from the schools in Hastings a few years ago, is now taught, in some measure, in all the county's schools. Kindergartens, science rooms, opportunity classes for the slow learners, have multiplied.

But such changes, like the recent construction of a library and a gymnasium to the Stirling public school, are expensive.

The original costs of such changes are always high, but later, because of larger areas of administration, these costs level out. We should keep in mind that such expenditures are not free-spending, but are vital allowances. Before the present system of sending local public schoolers to Stirling, some of these students did not have the proven benefits of audiovisual equipment, such as overhead projectors.

Even the young have a better chance to utilize their abilities when starting to school. Stirling public school employs a three-entry system, with the youngsters, depending on their birthdate, entering Grade one in either September, January or April. This allows those whose birthdate would have held them back a year under the old system, to proceed with Grade one at an earlier date. The youngsters go to school for a

Mrs. L. Rawlings Honoured

The Presbyterian Women met at the home of Mrs. Earl Fox, on Wednesday, September 3rd, to honour Mrs. Les. Rawlings, who was leaving Stirling to reside in Tweed where Mr. Rawlings, Manager of the Bank of Montreal, has been transferred.

Mrs. W. Rodgers, Mrs. D. C. MacPherson and Mrs. George Haggerty conducted several contests.

Mrs. Don Fargy read an appropriate address and Mrs. James Johnston presented Mrs. Rawlings with a gift on behalf of the Presbyterian Women. Mrs. George Haggerty presented a gift for her son, Jim.

Mrs. MacPherson gave a very suitable departing verse. Lunch was served by the hostesses and committee and a social hour was enjoyed.

Full day, having a better chance to develop themselves for Grade two. An added benefit, carefully planned, is a system of levels in each of the primary grades. This helps the student to advance according to his ability.

Rotary classes, or having the students travel from one classroom to another, each classroom especially prepared for a definite subject, better prepares the student for the transfer from this school system to a high school system, and perhaps, eventually, to college.

And the changes are never completely finished, for as adjustments are made, new factors arise. It is forecast that the Stirling schools will expand by six or seven classrooms within the next couple of years.

But even as these changes are constantly being wrought, the level of education continually rises. Thanks to such concerned individuals as Mr. Don Williams, trustee of Hastings County board of education, and Mr. George Patton, principal of the Stirling Public School, the parents of the school going youngsters of Stirling can rest secure with the knowledge that all is being done to educate the next generation.

Diet vs. Old Age

The thirty-five Senior Citizens present last Thursday take off their hats to Martha Wood and Evelyn Finkle for the nice lunch they served. Pres. Fred thanked these girls and also welcomed Rev. "Wib" Cox, who is a frequent visitor and always leaves us smiling. Come again, Wib, we like you. You better hang on to him, Rawdon, for if he left his shoes would be hard to fill. That ought to be good for another $500 — and that's putting it mildly.

Have you ever noticed as you grow older, that in tying your shoes, they seem to be farther down than they used to be? Is that old age, or have you a diet problem?

Soft pedal, please — It is reported that the King of Siam has 100 sacred white elephants and 1000 wives. That's a heck of a lot of elephants to take care of.

Dis Ole Scribe.

P.S. — Any complaints? Well, pull my hair out, if you can find it.

September Is Arthritis Month -- To Conduct Canvass In District

"Until some effective treatment is discovered, the pain and disability of arthritis will cause many people to try anything that holds out the slightest hope of relief."

This is the situation which faces The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society in its nation-wide educational campaign which is being accelerated during September which is "Arthritis Month."

"Arthritis sufferers," The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society points out, "are particularly vulnerable to false claims."

The "do-it-yourself" craze has caught on like wildfire until it is estimated that some 70% of Canadian arthritis have fallen victim to some form of quackery at some time in their lives. Says the Society "Self-medication is not a good idea. It is particularly dangerous when used to treat arthritis and other rheumatic diseases."

Copper bracelets, lemon juice, garlic, buttercup paste, iodine lockets and mud - all these and many other things have been advanced as cures for arthritis, and are passionately recommended by their advocates.

"There is no known cause of or cure for rheumatoid arthritis," according to the Society. "But it often goes into spontaneous remission, and patients are likely to attribute a dramatic abatement of their symptoms to whatever treatment they have recently received."

The Society urges all Canadians to be informed, to know the facts a

Laurel Rebekah Lodge News

The members of Laurel Rebekah Lodge met for their first regular meeting, following the summer recess, on Tuesday, September 9th, with a good attendance. N.G. Pat Merrill welcomed the members back.

Vice Grand Sis. Eileen Woodcock reported that two members are ill in hospital. A letter was read from the Deputy-Secretary informing the members that installation will be on October 14th. They will also be catering to a banquet and a wedding in October. So it looks like a busy Fall season.

Following Lodge, Sis. Ethel Duffin served a tasty lunch of cookies and coffee. At this time Sisters Pat Merrill and Jean Pollock presented Sis. Irene Pollock with a lovely birthday cake and "Happy Birthday" was sung to her and to Sis. Nellie McIntosh, who was also celebrating a birthday that day.

Sis. Nina Neal thanked the committee on behalf of all present.

bout arthritis. "It is," says the Society, important in helping people to help themselves."

"It is no harm to have faith in some old-fashioned 'magic' if, at the same time, you also call your family doctor, and follow his advice," a Society spokesman emphasizes.

September is "Arthritis Month" in Canada. The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society's goal is a total answer to the arthritis problem — both prevention and cure.

Mrs. Blake Faulkner Appointed Librarian of Stirling Public Library

The Stirling Public Library Board met on September 10th, with the following members present: Mrs. D. Patterson, chairman; Mr. R. Hulin, Mr. W. Camm, Mr. B. Glendinning.

The secretary read two letters; one from the Public Trustee notifying the Board that Stirling Public Library was entitled to some benefit from the estate of the late Kathleen M. Bailey, and the other from White and White, Solicitors, stating that Mrs. Bailey's will provides as follows: "to deliver my books to the Stirling Public Library". The Board members expressed appreciation for this typical concern of the late K. Bailey for the welfare of the Library.

Mrs. Carleton Potts, Librarian, announced that she must now resign due to personal duties, and Mrs. Patterson expressed the Board's appreciation for her several years' service to the Library. Mr. Hulin moved that Mrs. Potts' resignation be accepted, with regret, and Mr. Camm seconded the motion. Mrs. Potts recommended Mrs. B. Faulkner as being completely competent in all phases of the Librarian's work. The chairman, Mrs. Patterson, phoned Mrs. Faulkner to ask her if she would accept the position. Mrs. Faulkner expressed her appreciation for the offer and accepted. It was moved then by Mr. Glendinning and seconded by Mr. Hulin, that Mrs. B. Faulkner be appointed Librarian of the Stirling Public Library and Secretary of the Board.

It was moved by Mr. Camm and seconded by Mr. Glendinning that an advertisement be placed in the Stirling News-Argus for applicants for the position of Assistant to the Librarian, applications to be received on or before September 27th, 1969.

Preserving Pointers

For perfect preserves, here are some pointers from the food specialists at Macdonald Institute.

1. Select fresh firm fruit and vegetables, free from decay. Slightly under-ripe fruits are best for pickling.
2. Use coarse salt for pickling, since table salt tends to cloud the brine.
3. Use fresh herbs and spices.
4. Cider vinegar gives the best flavor, while white vinegar gives the best color.
5. Use enamel, glass, aluminum or stainless steel utensils. Brass, copper, iron and galvanized materials are apt to cause undesirable color changes.
6. Pack while hot in sterilized jars.

Fill one jar at a time and adjust cap
before filling next jar.

7. Remove air bubbles by running a rubber scraper between jar and food.
8. Stand filled jars right side up,
away from drafts, to cool.
9. Check seal after 24 hours.
10. Store in a dark, dry, cool place.

John's resumed their regular meetings after the summer recess on September 8th, at the home of Mrs.

Mrs. Walter Rodgers reported on bales being sent to Kenora, knitted shirts to Vietnam and articles sent to the cupboard at the United Church, where used sheets are still needed.

Mrs. Ken Ray, convenor, conducted the remaining programme. She read an article entitled, "What To Be Thankful For". Mrs. V. Matthews rendered a piano solo.

Mrs. Maurice Montgomery read the Scripture Lesson, Matthew 6: 5-16, with everyone joining in the Lord's Prayer, as she read that passage.

Mrs. Ray gave a paper, entitled, "Prayer for Bread". She mentioned the uses of bread in our daily living and the foundation of bread being the germ in the wheat, put there by God. Bread, as spoken of in the Lord's Prayer, is a general food, necessary to us. We must toll for it, then share it with others if we are Christians. It helps to feed the body both physically and spiritually in this way. Mrs. Matthews played The Lord's Prayer at this time.

The Mizpah Benediction was repeated by everyone. Delicious refreshments were served by the lunch committee.

ARDA Information

One of the programs which is receiving the most emphasis by Ontario A.R.D.A. at the present time is that of Farm Enlargement and Consolidation.

Since the program began in 1966 over 900 farms have been purchased in Ontario. Most of these are in Eastern, Central and Northern Ontario.

Until recently farms were bought by A.R.D.A. only if they could be immediately leased to neighbouring full time farmers. Farms offered for sale and falling into this category will continue to receive priority providing an eligible applicant to lease the farm, who cannot obtain credit to purchase the farm, is available.

However, A.R.D.A. is now prepared to purchase farms under certain circumstances even though there may not be farmers in the vicinity wishing to lease them. These may be owned by young farmers who find that their farms are not large enough or productive enough to provide sufficient income and who wish to either relocate their farm operations or to take training courses and enter other occupations.

They may also include farms in isolated areas which have low agricultural value and where the owner wishes to move away.

Another group may be those farmers over 55 years of age who presently occupy uneconomic farms and wish to retire from farming. Provided these farms have been offered for sale at least six months, it may be possible for A.R.D.A. to purchase them, and hold them until eligible applicants for farm enlargement signify their desire to rent. In some cases, it may be possible to give the owner a life lease on the house under reasonable rental terms.

Anyone wishing further information on this policy should contact the following A.R.D.A. fieldstaff located in the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food Offices:

Mr. Joe Galway, Box 651, KINGSTON, Ontario Telephone 546-3697.

Mr. Bob Deyo, Box 1600, NAPANEE Ontario Telephone 354-3371.

"WATERFOWL SERIES" — THE BLACK DUCK

The Black Duck is one of our largest ducks and belongs to the species known as puddle ducks, meaning they usually inhabit shallow ponds or sloughs and simply tip up or dip their heads under shallow water to pick up food from the bottom.

Their diet consists chiefly of aquatic vegetation and some aquatic animal life.

Their distribution is eastern North America; breeds from Labrador to as far south as Wisconsin and southern Maryland. They often winter as far north as southern Canada or wherever they can find open water. Being a very hardy bird, they can withstand very cold weather.

General appearance finds this is a large duck; usually averaging about 22-24 inches in length.

Both sexes look alike, being a dusky brown and often appearing black, with a gray brown head. The bill is an olive, straw colour, feet are orange. When in flight, the underwings are a definite white. Speculum is purplish-blue.

This excellent game bird builds a ground nest consisting of grass and weeds and lining it with down and feathers. Here 6 to 12 eggs of greenish-buff hue are laid and guarded until they hatch.

The Black Duck's voice is a very pronounced raspy "quack"; which undoubtedly quickens the pulse of almost any waterfowl hunter.

As any experienced duck hunter knows, the Black Duck is one, if not the smartest duck there is.

It has been often that I have sat in a duck blind, well concealed, with a good set of decoys well employed and all other conditions in a favourable condition — and the Black Ducks still would circle the pond at least 4 or 5 times, very suspiciously, before deciding it was safe to come in.

This duck just never takes a chance and is often the cause of much frustration among waterfowlers.

Entered Into Rest THOMAS (TOMMY) HANNA

In failing health for several years, Thomas (Tommy) Hanna, of 47 Churchill street, Kingston, died Wednesday, September 10th, 1969, in the Belleville General Hospital. He was in his 58th year.

Born in Stirling, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hanna.

He is survived by his wife, the former Faye Holland, and one daughter, Mrs. Miklos (Betty) Horvath, and one granddaughter, Patricia Horvath, Kingston.

He was the foster-father of Mrs. (Shirley) Earl McCaugherty of Napanee, Robert Spencer, Stirling. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Ernest (Alta) Carr, of Stirling.

Mr. Hanna, a retired farmer was a life long resident of Stirling, except for the last two years, which he spent in Kingston.

He was a member of St. James the Minor Church, and also of the Holy Name Society.

Mr. Hanna rested at the Hogle Funeral Home, Stirling. Funeral services were held at the St. James the Minor Church, Saturday, September 13th at 11:00 a.m. Interment was in St. James the Minor Cemetery. Father J. F. McGarvey officiated.

The pallbearers were: Bernard Farrell, Robert Hoard, Ken Morrow, John Sager, Gerrit Bartels, Roy LaChapelle.

HASTI-AGRI-GRAM THE FARM NEWS LETTER OF HASTINGS COUNTY

OF GENERAL INTEREST
(W. D. Tipper)

Fall programs are under way even though it isn't officially the fall season. Fall Fairs seem to denote the fall work area. In the senior world two major events take place in September. The first is the Hastings and Prince Edward Drainage Information Day which has been publicized and set for September 9th. This date may be past before this article is printed in some of the county papers but I want to refer to it for the information of those people who have drainage problems but who are, or were, unable to attend the Drainage Day. The reason for this is that a booklet has been prepared covering the information put together for the Drainage Day. Additional copies will be available upon request from the county office in Stirling following the event.

The other main date to remember is September 23rd when the Quinte Soil and Crop Improvement holds their 'Feature Day'. It will take place in the Port Hope area and is being advertised at the present time. To some, it may have an odd sounding title. It is a 'Materials Handling Day'. This means, it deals with equipment in getting the grain crops and silage crops from the field to storage and eventually to the livestock.

Ray Pender asks that parents of 4-H members in Hastings County check their mail very closely. He has sent out two items to all members. The first deals with the 4-H meetings for the month of September; the second, is the September edition of 4-H news. This in particular provides information as we move towards the 4-H County Championship Show at Madoc the last week of September.

Madoc 4-H prize lists will be out shortly.

CROP PROBLEMS

(T. Wayne Martin)

There are two items we need to look at at this time of the year, one deals with alfalfa and the other with winter wheat.

Winterkill in Alfalfa — For the alfalfa plant to survive over winter there must be adequate reserve food stored in the roots. Each time the alfalfa plant is harvested, the food reserves in the roots decline. This stored food in the root provides the initial growth of new tops as well as making the root resistant to low temperatures. About three weeks after harvest occurs the stored food is at its lowest level, and for the following two weeks (three weeks in the fall) the new leaves are producing more food than is required for growth and this is stored in the root.

The depletion and replenishment of food in the alfalfa root requires about five weeks in the summer, or six weeks in the fall when growth is slower. The critical date for fall harvesting of alfalfa in Hastings County is from September 10-20. This means that harvesting or grazing of alfalfa should be avoided three weeks before and three weeks after this period in order for root reserves to be built up to maintain long-term alfalfa stands.

Seed Treatment for Germinating Winter Wheat — Most winter wheat growers in this area have found that the seed started to germinate in the head. Depending upon the amount of germination, this wheat may still be used for fall-seeding. Caution must be taken, however, in choosing this germinated wheat, as germination will have gone down, and when it comes to seed treatment it is most important that mercury compounds are not used. The non-mercurial compounds are combined with the seed in grain drills and the mixture applied to the soil during planting. As in the use of all fungicides and other pesticides, the manufacturers directions should be followed when the non-mercurial seed treatments are used.

JOHNSTON — McDONELL WEDDING

MR. AND MRS. MYLES STEWART McDONELL

Mount Pleasant United Church, R.R. 3, Stirling, was the setting on Saturday, August 23rd, 1969, at 11:00 a.m., when Linda Ann Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Johnston, R.R. 3, Stirling became the bride of Myles Stewart McDonell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McDonell, R.R. 3, Stirling. Rev. W. C. Cox officiated at the ceremony and the wedding music was rendered by Miss Jean Jeffs.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length sleeveless gown, with fitted bodice and straight skirt. The neckline was trimmed with lace identical to lace coat worn over the gown. The coat featured scalloped edges, Mona Lisa sleeves and a pleat in back forming a train effect. Her four tire illusion veil was caught to a headdress of rosebuds and she carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

The maid of honour, Miss Joyce Sine, Belleville, wore a pink, sleeveless A-line dress, featuring an embrodered empire bodice, accented by white lace on neckline and between the rows of embroidery and white organza overskirts. The matching veil headpiece was caught by seed pearls and tiny flowers. She carried a bouquet of shasta daisies, centred with pale pink carnations. The bridesmaids, Miss Linda Springins, Bloomfield and Miss Shirley Anne McDonell, sister of the groom, were dressed identically to the maid of honour.

Ted Herrington, of Belleville, was groomsman and the ushers were David Shortt, of Foxboro, cousin of the groom, and Lyle Johnston, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at Carmel Community Hall, where the bride's mother greeted the guests wearing a navy and white crimplene dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. The bridegroom's mother assisted, wearing a ruby coloured A-line dress of silk crepe with matching lace sleeves and roll collar, a feather hat of mixed shades, ruby and bone accessories and a corsage of gold mums.

For the wedding trip to points east and south, the bride chose a mauve crimplene dress with white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

Out-of-town guests were present from Amherstview, Campbellford, Frankford, Belleville, Oshawa, Combermere, Ottawa, Norwood, Bloomfield, Dalkeith, Montreal and Batawa. Mr. and Mrs. McDonell will reside at 31 Gore St., Stirling.

Awarded Contract

A contract has been awarded to Drury Construction Co. Ltd. of Arthur, Ontario for the reconstruction of the County road from Marbank to Highway No. 41, a distance of 3.7 miles. The road extends through portions of Hastings County and Lennox & Addington County, and is being reconstructed as a Development road project toward which the Ontario Department of Highways contributes 100% of the construction costs.

The project falls in the riding of Clarke T. Rollins, M.P.P. Hastings and the Hon. J. R. Simouett, M.P.P. Frontenac-Addington. The Hon. George Gomme, Minister of Highways, has advised the two members that he has authorized the construction expenditures on this road, and will be forwarding formal Agreements to each County for execution.

The contract awarded to Drury Construction is valued at $278,558.00 and was the lower of two bids received. The work will involve grading, drainage, granular base and some asphalt paving.

The acquisition of land for widening and the erection of new fences is to be done by the respective Counties as a regular road expenditure receiving 50% subsidy from the Province. Work will commence shortly and it is hoped that the contract can be completed before the end of this year.

Ivanhoe Institute

The first Fall meeting of Ivanhoe Institute was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Barton Haggerty, with a good attendance. Mrs. Tuinman opened the meeting in the usual manner, with the Institute Ode and Mary Stewart Collect. Roll call was answered.

Short courses were discussed and decided upon. Total receipts from catering at a wedding were $154.84.

It was moved by Mary Sills and seconded by Lil Wallace that $5.00 be donated to Madoc High School for a 4-year student.

The remainder of the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Miller, the Home Economics convener. Mrs. Miller gave the motto: "No one is rich enough to be without a neighbour". Muriel Hassall favoured with a lovely solo. Mrs. Miller showed slides on craft work, which were very interesting.

Mary Sills thanked Margaret Haggerty for opening her home and Mrs. Miller for the slides.

To Call Tenders

The Honourable George Gomme, Minister of Highways, has advised Mr. Clarke T. Rollins, M.P.P. for Hastings, that tenders have been called for the contract noted below.

Contract No. 69-157 — Grading, Drainage, Granular Base and Paving on Highway 62 Maple Leaf westerly to 1.3 miles south of Highway 127 at Maynooth—6.3 miles Bancroft District, D.H.O., W.P., No. 353-65-02.

Stirling 4-H Homemaking Club

The third meeting of the Stirling Branch of 4-H Homemaking Club was held on Saturday, September 6th, at the home of Ruth Wannamaker.

The topic for this meeting was Planning Vegetables Into Meals. The girls prepared vegetable soup. Janet Duffin and Gayle Hoover demonstrated the stuffing of potatoes and Dorasparagus and egg scalloped casserole. The members judged a series of menus.

Life is like a mirror; it never reflects more than we put into it.

THE GOOD DRIVER

Tornadoes are comparatively rare in Canada, but the word did get into a recent weather forecast for S.W. Ontario. Don't stay with your car if a twister is close, warns the Ontario Safety League. Seek the nearest available shelter, or lie down in a ditch. Even a low spot in a field is safer than your car in a twister.

In a house in the path of a tornado, if there is no basement you should open the windows facing N.E., and huddle against the S.W. wall away from the windows; sitting under a heavy table affords additional protection. Above all, don't go outdoors.

In the U.S., testing of rubber railroad crossings is going, says the Ontario Safety League. Heavy lag bolts hold rubber pads in place on ties under the rail. Pads "roll with the punch", absorbing severe wear and tear from highway vehicles and trails yet rebound to original position after the load is removed. Maintenance is negligible, more than offsetting the higher original cost.

The Ontario Safety League reports that in Florida, a mini-skirted miss passed her test for recognizing traffic signs. When taking her driving test she pushed down on the brake revealed to the interested examiner replicas of all the signs painted on her upper leg.

Drivers are advised never to overtake another car on a back road without first signalling by horn or headlights. If the driver ahead doesn't know you are there, the Ontario Safety League points out, it is possible he will collide with you by swerving suddenly to the left to avoid a bump or chuckhole.

R. A. J. Bastedo Elected Legion Zone Commander District F-3

In the unavoidable absence of President Wiegner DeJong of the Stirling Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, delegates and members at a special Zone F-3 Legion meeting were welcomed by Vice-President Douglas Patterson in the Stirling Legion Hall on Wednesday, September 11th.

The purpose of the meeting was the election of a new Zone Commander and Deputy, occasioned by the recent election of Zone Commander Earl Brant as Deputy District Commander, who was in the chair.

Following the opening ceremonies, Commander Brant spoke in glowing terms of the fine co-operation he had received while Zone Commander, and asked the same for his successor. He then turned the meeting over to District Commander Eric Hogg for the election of the Zone Officers.

The voting resulted in the election of Deputy Zone Commander R. J. A. "Bert" Bastedo of the Stirling Branch by acclamation, and Cde. Jim Colten of the Concession Branch, as Deputy Zone Commander.

Installation of these officers followed.

A special chain of office, of buckskin and beadwork, made by the Mohawk Branch, No. 280, of Deseronto, in honour of Commander Earl Brant, was presented to the Zone and worn by Commander Bastedo at this ceremony.

Stirling Branch Receives Certificate of Merit

Completing the business of the evening, Commander Brant presented a Certificate of Merit for increased membership in 1968 to the Stirling Branch. The certificate was accepted by Membership Chairman Herb Wall on behalf of the Branch.

Following adjournment visitors and local members enjoyed a get-together.

Chicken Supper Successful

The annual chicken barbecue supper, sponsored by Stirling-Encampment, No. 80, IOOF, in the Oddfellows' Temple, on Charlotte St., on Thursday evening, September 18th, proved a decided success.

Over three hundred and fifty people were served delicious barbecued chicken, which formed the main portion of the meal. A new innovation this year was corn on the cob which was very tasty. There were also good things as escalloped potatoes, salads, buttered buns, pickles, sliced tomatoes, coffee, tea, freshie and a variety of pie and cheese.

Many fine compliments have been heard on the excellence of the cuisine and the service. Chief Patriarch Glenn Bush and his assistants are to be congratulated on the success attaining their efforts.

ARE YOU TICKLISH TOO?

Senior Citizens last Thursday whooped it up. Florence Hough and Jessie Johnson called us to the trough and we gobbled up their delicious food. Thanks girls.

A new way to play euchre was discovered. John Kane and Ernie Muhro were playing against Edna Sharpe and President Fred. Ernie is so used to playing give away at checkers that he forgot he was playing euchre. So John played against the three of them and won one game out of nine. Congratulations John for you got to be good to win one that way. Ernie also gave away roses.

Well the first Thursday in October we've got to decide whether to keep President Fred on for another year or fire him for better or for worse. It's election of officers day at our club and we need a Vice-President too.

Watch your step, for yesterday a lady slipped on a banana skin and bruised her somewhat and slightly injured her otherwise.

Wire Tapping
A Senior Citizen on the phone said: "Where can I get a hold of you next Thursday?"

The reply: "I don't know for I'm kinda ticklish."

Members of Stirling Horticultural Society Met At Home Wm. Ashby

(by Luella Bronson)

The first meeting for the fall term of the Stirling Horticultural Society was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mr. William Ashby, on the Trent River.

Mrs. Floyd Armstrong opened the meeting in the usual manner. Reports were given of the previous meeting and news letters by the Secretary, Mrs. Raymond McConnell. The sale of plants, bus trips, new tables and gardeners' work was itemized by Mrs. Grant Hubble.

Mrs. Harry Waite, Sunshine Convener, listed the names of folk that were sick or bereaved. She also read replies of thanks.

The prize list for the Fall Fair was discussed. It was decided to revise the list, while new ideas were in mind. Mrs. Ashley Brooks, Mrs. Ray Rose and the executive will be responsible for this work.

Mrs. Frank Harding will be hostess for the October evening meeting, which will be held at the St. John's Anglican Hall on the 20th.

At this meeting it was suggested that the hostess and President be in charge of preparing lunch for each meeting and a 25 cent collection be taken to meet lunch expenses.

A discussion period was held regarding the village flower beds, home flowers and vegetables and problems with garden pests.

Slips were exchanged. This is a practice at most every meeting. So a reminder — share what plants you have — this makes our meetings more interesting.

Mrs. Hubble shared her summer vacation with us by telling of meeting interesting people and seeing places of educational interest.

Donuts, coffee or tea was served. Mrs. Oscar Merrick moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Ashby and family for their hospitality.

The Mallard is one of the most important ducks we have as it occupies most of the northern hemisphere and is abundant wherever it has not been destroyed or reduced in numbers by man.

Wild Mallards have furnished mankind with countless tons of food from time immemorial.

As I said before, the Mallard is abundant in the northern hemisphere and breeds from Alaska and Greenland south to Lower California across the United States.

Also, like the Black Duck, it is a very hardy bird and often winters in the North wherever it can find open water and food.

The Mallard constructs a ground nest of reeds, grass and leaves and it is well padded with down and feathers. In this soft nest, the female lays and hatches 6 to 10 buffy-green eggs.

Having a green head and rusty coloured breast separated by a white neck band, the Mallard Drake is easily identified. However, the female is often mistaken for the similar Black Duck. An easy tip to remember is — the female Mallard has a white border on its speculum or colored wing patch, while the Black Duck has a black edging on its speculum. Also the female Mallard is a much browner and light tawny colour than the Black Duck.

The Mallard is a large duck. An adult averaging about 22 inches to 24 inches is a prize for any waterfowler as it is one of the finest ducks you can put on the table.

The Mallard is another member of the Fuddle Ducks.

Signals Prevent Collisions

MOTORISTS! When you're driving and decide to slow down, stop, or change lanes, always signal your intentions and help yourself and others avoid collisions. Remember... signals help prevent collisions.

Fasten Your Seat Belts

MOTORISTS! Still not using seat belts? What's holding you back from hitting the dashboard or windshield if you have a collision or make a sudden panic stop? Remember... seat belts can make the difference between an incident and a tragedy. So, make it a rule... before you turn the key, make sure all seat belts are fastened.

School Safety Patrols

DRIVERS: Whenever you see school child safety patrols in operation, do your share to help them operate effectively. School child safety patrol girls and boys help their fellow pupils, on their way to and from school, to cross streets and roadways safely. Some people think the patrols direct traffic... this is not their function. The children forming the patrols are selected and trained for their important job. The patrols hold children back until it's safe... and then let them go. Remember... whenever you drive... co-operate with child safety patrols and keep our children safe.

DRIVERS: Now that the children are back in school and the nights are getting shorter you should use extra caution and your lights should also be turned on earlier than what you have been used to. As Elmer says it is better to be safe than sorry.

A Snowproof Mailbox

A former Smith Falls resident, Geo. Mousseau of Carleton Place, has invented a new mailbox attachment bracket that should prove to be snow-proof. A demonstration bracket has been erected at Roger's Motel.

The new invention features arms of different lengths which will allow rural residents to place the mailbox posts well off the shoulder of the road. The attachment also moves up and down so that it may be adjusted to clear varying heights of snow-pow blades.

Should the snowplow hit the mailbox, the force would break a shear-pin allowing the entire assembly to swing out of the way. There are also models which can be tightened to stop it from being turned by the wind, but loose enough to allow the mailbox to swing if struck.

Mr. Mousseau 42, explained he invented the device after hearing complaints from rural friends who have ter months. He said he saw at least eight knocked down during one storm to replace mailboxes during the winter on the township road between Perth and Franktown.

"It is quite a problem," the inventor said. "They have to be placed close enough to the road to allow the mailmen to reach them without getting out of their cars."

Mr. Mousseau said there was patent pending on the device. He also said he has a company that will mass produce the product if he can stir up enough interest.

There are about 12 "home-made" brackets in the area. He is hoping they will sell in even greater numbers with winter close at hand.

NOTICE OF REASSESSMENT VILLAGE OF STIRLING

The valuation of land and buildings shown on the Notice of Assessment you will receive this week is the result of the re-assessment programme which has taken place in your Municipality over the past two years; and which is taking place across the Province of Ontario.

This appraisal is in compliance with The Assessment Act, which states that property "shall be assessed at actual value." The procedure used conforms with that outlined by the "Provincial Manual" and recommended for use by all Municipalities. In order to arrive at a fair estimate of "actual value" all buildings have been classed, measured and inspected inside and out, and consideration given for physical, functional and economic obsolescence where applicable.

The main function of the Assessment Department is to appraise and assess the property in accordance with the provisions of the Ontario Statutes to ensure equality of property value. The Assessment Department is not responsible for the amount of taxes levied in the municipality — a fact that is sometimes misunderstood. As more or less revenue is required to provide services and improvements necessary to operate the Village efficiently, the tax rate is increased or decreased accordingly by the Municipal Council and levied on the Assessment.

In order to explain this valuation more fully, we are holding a meeting in your Community Hall (Theatre) starting September 25th, at 2.00 p.m., after which the Assessors will be available to discuss individual assessment problems. The Assessors will also be available on September 26th, 2.00 p.m. to 9.00 p.m.

It should be emphasized that appeals to the Court of Revision against the assessment must be filed in accordance with the date printed on the Assessment Notice.

I would like to thank you for the consideration and co-operation extended to our staff during this re-assessment.

TO THE TENANT: The Tenant Notice of Assessment is in compliance with the Assessment Act and shows the value of the premises occupied by you for the purpose of school support, voting, etc.

S. C. JEVONS, M.I.M.A., Assessment Commissioner, County of Hastings

THE GOOD DRIVER

"The horseless carriage will greatly reduce the death rate in cities,"
Dr. James J. Walsh foretold in 1900.
He reasoned that, since horseflies like to lay their eggs in horse manure, the coming of the horseless carriage would result in manure-free streets and would remove a serious source of infection.

The Ontario Safety League says
this item is given in a new book,
"The English", which adds this comment to the prophecy. "Everybody accepted this authoritative statement except the common housefly, which still seems to be circulating around, lighting here and there, laying its eggs and spreading infection.
Meanwhile, the horseless carriage, also flourishing prodigiously, is killing us off like flies."

Instant-inflating occupant restraint systems, commonly referred to as "air bags" may be required on all passenger cars, trucks and buses by 1971, according to a proposal announced by the U.S. Department of Transportation. The air bag inflates in about four-hundredths of a second after an initial crash contact, and effectively cushions vehicle occupants, preventing injuries caused by the "second crash" when unbelted occupants are hurled against the vehicle's interior.

Don't have a one-track mind. Especially, says the Ontario Safety League, when you are waiting for a slow freight train to clear the crossing.
Remember that an express may be coming down the other track.

In a year of average driving your fan belt travels more than 125 million feet, round and round. The belt travels about twice as far as the tires.
The Ontario Safety League reminds drivers of the danger of breaking a belt when no replacement is readily available, and suggests carrying a spare in the trunk. In an emergency it is sometimes possible to tow another car out of a difficult spot with a fan belt hooked over the bumpers.

You have to see danger to avoid it, says the Ontario Safety League. Keep your eyes moving when you drive.

THE BIBLE TODAY

In 1967 the American Bible Society's paper-back edition of the New Testament in Today's English Version — 'Good News for Modern Man' (Valley of the Dolls). In 1968 it repeated the performance, only this time it outsold 'Rosemary's Baby'.

The 1968 figures were:

1. Good News for Modern Man 4,768,329
2. Rosemary's Baby: 4,200,000
3. The Arrangement: 2,580,000
4. The Exhibitionist: 2,100,000

Statistics of secular paper-backs are based on print orders, not on actual sales and if the retailer cannot sell he has the privilege of returning them postage paid. The figures for 'Good News for Modern Man' are figures of actual distribution and do not allow any returns.

'Good News for Modern Man' is now standing third in the list of all-time paper-back bestsellers with only the Merriam-Webster Pocket Dictionary and Dr. Spock's 'Baby and Child Care' in front of it. If present sales levels continue Today's English Version will surpass both of these by 1970.

Housing Prices Level Off

The price of houses may be reaching a plateau in many parts of Canada, at least for the time being, Philip Mathias writes in The Financial Post. The average price of houses sold in the second quarter rose only 1%, whereas in the first quarter prices were 10% above 1968 averages. These figures apply to the multiple listing service of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards. Reasons for the slower climb, The Financial Post says are: sharp increases in mortgage interest rates, now hovering around 10% reduced lending by the chartered banks and other institutions; and the high level prices have already reached. National average price in the 2nd quarter was $23,357. If house prices are beginning to level out, it will be the first relief in the upward spiral for about three years, during which time the national average has risen more than 25%.

St. Paul's UCW Unit Four

The first Fall meeting of Unit Four of St. Paul's United Church Women was held at the Church on the afternoon of September 16th, with a splendid attendance.

The President, Mrs. George Carlisle, opened the meeting with a Creed which has been recently entered in the front of the hymn books. All joined in repeating this and in singing the theme hymn.

Secretaries reporting were Mrs.
A. Brooks, for Membership, Mrs. H.
Waite, for Community Friendship, and Mrs. R. Bush expressed appreciation for assistance in social functions.

The U.C.W. general meeting will be in October. The Fellowship Day will also be observed in Stirling, as well as the Regional Rally on October 23rd, at St. Paul's Church. October is Thankoffering meeting and is in charge of Mrs. H. Bird and her group.

Worship
Mrs. H. Wells, leader of the September group had charge of the devotional period. The theme was "Family Life". She was assisted by Mrs. S. Williams and Mrs. M. McMullen. After hymn 392, Prayer of Confession was read by Mrs. Wells. The Bible lesson, by Mrs. Williams was read from Proverbs 31 and John 19.

Comments on the lesson were given by Mrs. McMullen, stressing the proper relationship between members of our families and members of the Household of God, the Church. Mrs.
Wells' closing prayer was one of thanks for the strength and warmth of love, both human and divine. Accompanied by Mrs. H. Wells at the piano, Mrs. H. Waite and Mrs. H.
Philp sang the familiar hymn "Happy The Home Where God Is There".
The offering, gathered by Mrs. O.
Stapley and Mrs. McMullen, was dedicated by Mrs. Wells. Hymn 373 and The Lord's Prayer closed the service.

Mission Study

Mrs. Carlisle expressed appreciation for the worship service and called on Mrs. Bruce Stapley to conduct the study of China. Mrs. Stapley opened her talk by saying that trying to really understand China was much like trying to arrange a difficult crossword puzzle. What she wants from our modern way of life she accepts, and rejects the rest. Socialism is slowly replacing capitalism and many old customs have changed under chairman Mao's Social Reform in 1965. China is undergoing a cultural revolution which is affecting even the higher personnel of the land, and a brighter future seems ahead.

Mrs. Stapley then described life as seen in various types of Chinese homes — the style of house, the furnishings, food, clothing, day's work and earnings.

1. An apartment in the city — quite modern. 2. An older style home, with its vegetable garden and fowl. 3. The home of Madam Chang, a magistrate, the mother of six children. In this busy life, she had the assistance of the grandmother in the home. 4. A rural commune was described — many 2-room brick houses. All worked on the land.

The children of China seemed healthy and the aged were kept either in their own homes or in homes of their children.

This information was taken from a book, "Life in China Today", written by Mrs. Jean Woodsworth, of Toronto, a social worker with the Y.W.C.A.
Questions on the study were handed out for discussion and proved most interesting and the women felt the study had been well presented and very worthwhile.

Mrs. Carlisle thanked Mrs. Stapley for her capable presentation of life in China and closed the meeting with a definition of membership in our U.C.W. or Church. It is a feeling of belonging to sharing, of growing in our commitments and finding service a joy. This was followed by the Steward's Prayer.

As usual, the lunch hour was one of pleasant fellowship and the committee in charge was thanked by Mrs.
Leslie Thompson.

Belle-Trent 17th Parents Without Partners Chapter

Focus was on the problems of the one parent family and the special difficulties faced by those parents who are left alone either through death, divorce or separation, to raise their children by themselves and carry the load of breadwinner as well as the responsibilities usually shouldered by two parents.

Scene of the meeting was King St.
United Church in Trenton and the occasion was the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Belle-Trent Chapter, Parents Without Partners Inc. A large number of members and prospective members turned out to greet the Association Zone Director and the International Vice-President in charge of Programming. Also in attendance were a small number of the over 100 members of the Clergy in the Quinte Area who had been specially invited for the occasion. Attending also were some six visitors from Kingston who are presently in the process of organizing a Chapter in that City.

President George Cote expressed a warm welcome to all and called on Mrs. Mary Book and Mr. Joe Pirie to speak briefly regarding Parents Without Partners organization.

Mary Book is the Director of the Canadian Zone 5. She is a member of Burloak Chapter No. 287 and lives in Burlington, Ontario. She is on her Chapter's Board of Directors, works on the Newsletter, handles phone information for prospective members and is active in the Orientation Programme for new members. She has served as Secretary of the Central Ontario Regional Council.

Joe Pirie is Vice-President, Chapter Programmes for PWP International and has been a member of Hamilton Chapter No. 73, the city in which he lives, since 1964. Since 1967 he has served as a Director on PWP's International Board. He has worked on a wide variety of Chapter activities — nominations, fund-raising, adult discussions, by-laws, reception, installations, etc. and on the Board his portfolio has been to review and pass amendments submitted by Chapters to the Chapter by-laws. For two years he was president of the newly-formed Central Ontario Regional Council. In his work he has travelled extensively through Canada and the United States assisting the various chapters with their programming.

Mary was very pleased to advise all present that the application for a Chapter had been approved and Belle-Trent is now the 17th Canadian Chapter. Twelve of the seventeen Chapters are in Ontario, mainly lying in the "Golden Horseshoe" area. Others exist in different Provinces and more and more interest is being shown, with requests for information on the programme and the way to organize Chapters being received continuously.

PWP International is an organization which was first formed in New York City in 1957 and spread to Canada in 1962. From that very small beginning it has now grown to some 450 Chapters throughout continental North America, with Chapters also in the British Isles and Australia.

Joe, in his remarks, stated that he was in less contact in the last few years with the workings of his individual Chapter and with the individual member due to his duties on Programming which necessitate his travelling extensively, advising and assisting in the programme of PWP, working on the By-Laws for International and Chapters, which have been revised and improved this past year.

Both Mary and Joe stressed that Single Parents and their families, the situations and concerns encountered are much the same no matter where one lives, be it a small Ontario village,
New York City or Dallas, Texas.

In the question and answer period that followed when Mary and Joe occupied the 'hot seat' many questions were posed, both by the members and by those ministers in attendance.

It was most definitely stressed that PWP's program is principally and primarily educational and that ten out of every twelve regular meetings must be educational in nature. "Our concern is for our children and how best to raise them and to help them to develop with a mature, healthy outlook on life. Although we do have social activities, we are not a dating bureau," stated Mary. A sample month's program for a Chapter (and this has been true of Belle-Trent) would consist of two regular educational meetings, two discussion groups, one or two adult activities usually on a Friday or Saturday night, and two or three parent-child activities, frequently on Sunday afternoons.

Joe stressed that many professional people, doctors, lawyers, teachers, social workers and their colleagues were usually interested in our Organization and indeed, several well known individuals were on the professional advisory board for International.

Appreciation to our special speakers for the information and assistance and to the ministers in attendance for their interest was expressed by Pat Merrill, Secretary.

During the social half hour that followed, coffee and cookies were served and all left the meeting with a better understanding of the problems, privileges and responsibilities of the One Parent Family and the advantages to be gained from membership in Parents Without Partners.

(Reporter's note — May I take this opportunity to express my personal and the Chapter's sincere appreciation to Rev. Small, Rex Cox and Rev. Caswell for the interest shown in taking the time to attend this meeting.)
